WARREN'S COUGH BALSAM,
THIS IS AN OLD AND RELIABLE REMEDY
For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, etc.
It was originally prepared by the advice and under the supervision of one of the most skillful physicians of the country. From the very first it took high rank among the specifics for those diseases, and ever since it has been growing in favor with the people and the medical profession, as the large number of testimonials in our possession will show. It is pleasant to take and affords quick relief. We offer it to the public, confident that it has no equal for the purposes for which it is commended.

STATE NEWS.

Aroostook.

A suit has been brought against the New Brunswick Railway for $500 for damages done to a car load of live stock shipped by J. S. Weller of Houlton, to the Union Market, Watertown. The shipment consisted of a car load of veal calves, among which he put eleven cows, so that the calves could have milk while on the journey. But the station agent, it is said, acting under an old rule, put up a partition between the cows and calves. This partition, it is alleged, got broken down before Vanceboro was reached, and the agent unloaded them and held them there from Saturday until Monday. Then they were forwarded to Burnham, where I. C. Libby has yards for feeding calves and cattle on the way to market. They were in such condition from neglect that forty of the calves had to be killed at once. It is alleged that the employes of the New Brunswick Railway are responsible.

Cumberland.

Monday noon, in Market Square, Portland, Charles F. Bond, in stepping from a carriage, caught his leg in the wheel. The leg was badly broken just above the ankle.

Monday afternoon, the house and stable in Deering owned by Mr. Charles W. Hodgdon, were totally burned, together with nearly all the tenants' household goods. Loss, $2000, no insurance. It is said that in the morning Mr. Hodgdon was talking with an insurance agent about insuring his buildings, but no bargain was made.

At a meeting of the Veteran Republican club, of Portland, Monday evening, Mr. H. W. Richardson claimed for a correspondent of the Portland Advertiser, the honor of naming the republican party. This correspondent suggested the name and it was afterwards taken up by the New York Tribune, and from that beginning it was adopted as the name of the new party.

Anatole Levy offered 10½ mileage coupons on the eastern division of the Boston and Maine for passage to Portland from Boston. The conductor demanded 11½. Levy refused to give the difference and was sued by the road. The case was tried in Boston. A despatch from Boston states that a decision was rendered in favor of Levy but this is a mistake. The Boston and Maine won the suit.

The trusses of the new bridge over Portland street, Portland, are up, and the ties are being placed in position. The tracks entering the new depot are nearly graded, and in a short time will be laid across the bridge. Between the Transfer station and the depot the road bed has been lowered several feet, thus removing the heavy grade that formerly existed at that place. The Union depot is rapidly approaching completion. Two large black marble soda fountains have been placed in the restaurant, which will soon be finished.

Hancock.

A West Brooksville man says, Foxes are numerous in our vicinity, making great depredations in the henneries. The squirrels during the past winter have made their nests in the cellar of Capt. Nathaniel Perkins, saucily feasting on his apples and vegetables, while partridges familiarly perch in his orchard. Early on a recent morning, T. C. Tapley, looking out of his window, discovered a good sized bear in his orchard. Mr. Tapley is well advanced in years, but hastily seizing his gun (though stockingless and hatless) made chase at once with great celerity and courage, but bruin disappeared in the woods before being overtaken. The bear has since been tracked along the shore. On looking from the windows, our gaze is sometimes unexpectedly met by the sight of startled deer upon the hillside.

Kennebec.

The trustees of the State Insane Hospital at Augusta, have decided to ask the United States government to allow a way to be maintained across the grounds of the Kennebec Arsenal for the passage of people and teams proceeding from and to the institution.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of West Gardiner, who were afflicted with the visitations of monkeys last winter, and were taken to the Hospital where they recovered, have since their release and return home been afflicted in the same manner as formerly. While at the Hospital their fear of monkeys entirely subsided and it was thought that they were cured. The features of the case from a medical view are puzzling.

Detective Ira M. True of Hallowell, has been in Boston, for the past few days, looking for Jas. M. Buck, who formerly was a liquor dealer in Augusta. It seems that in answer to several indictments he secured bondsmen, and then left the city and went to Boston, entering into the same business. His bondsmen were held responsible, and, Monday, Detective True found his man and returned him where he is wanted. Mr. True had requisition papers from the governor of Maine to the governor of Massachusetts.

The work on the building at the East end of the Augusta dam is progressing rapidly during this pleasant weather. The rains and high water of the river have unavoidably delayed the work heretofore. Monday they were working on the fourth story of the main building and will soon be ready for the pulp machinery which is all ready for the putting in. The stone work, foundation and all, is finished. The mud sills are now being put in.

The Journal is informed that the statement going the rounds, that the criminal cases against Dennis Garrity of Hallowell, pending in the Superior Court, Kennebec County, have been settled, is entirely false. Mr. Garrity is still a fugitive from justice, and will be lodged in jail at once if he shows up in this State. The bail of Mr. Garrity has been sued, and a hearing was had on the scire facias cases against his bail a few days since, which doubtless gave rise to the report above referred to.

Oxford.

On the 15th of May, 40 feet of the bank of the Saco river slid into the river, leaving a precipice sixty feet high, about thirty feet from Samuel L. Clemons' house in Hiram. The house is about a century old, perhaps older. The Oxford Democrat says, in 1841 Capt. Andrew R. Bucknell had a half-acre of potatoes between the house and the river. This is all gone, as well as the former town road.

News has been received that the large sorting boom at Canton has broken, causing about three hundred thousand of lumber to be carried down stream. The main jam is so large and packed in so solid that only about the above amount run out. The main jam is piled in clear to the bottom of the river, and in places from fifteen to twenty feet high, running up the river nearly one and a half miles, making a grand sight. A crew of men were at once put on to place a second boom across the river, in hopes that this might save further loss, but should the water rise suddenly it would be difficult holding them at all. The river has dropped off about two feet the past week but is still at "high water pitch." A portion of the last logs have reached Otis Falls and are stopped by their boom. They can easily be held until sorted.

Somerset.

Ground was broken at Fairfield, Tuesday, for the Fairfield and Waterville horse railroad. A large crew are at work. The work will be finished by June 11th.

Waldo.

Capt. David Nickels, one of the most prominent ship masters of Searsport, died Monday morning having been confined to the house but a week, in which time he suffered greatly. He was master at the age of 19, and had commanded in his day the schooner Albert Virgil, barks David Nickels, O. J. Chafee, Lucy A. Nickels and John Carver, and ships Martin Luther, Moonlight, Lucy A. Nickels and Belle, of Bath.

York.

Rev. J. T. G. Nichols, pastor of the Saco Unitarian church, whose resignation was tendered some time ago, has consented to remain, at the cordial invitation of his church, as their pastor emeritus. Mr. Nichols felt constrained by advancing age to retire from the active duties of his pastorship but the church were unwilling to entirely sever the long and pleasant relations existing between pastor and people.

The National Convention

THE NEW AUDITORIUM FOR THE CONVENTION—ITS CAPACITY AND ATTRACTIVENESS—A MAGNIFICENT HALL.

[Correspondence of the Boston Journal.]

The men in charge of the construction of the Auditorium Building, at Chicago, in which the Republican National Convention is to assemble on June 19, say today that the hall will be ready for occupancy a week ahead of the stipulated time. The interior walls of this portion of the immense structure are all up and roofed, and forty carpenters are at work putting in the floor, seats and galleries. The building runs from Michigan avenue west to Wabash avenue, with Congress street forming its southern boundary and business houses adjoining on the north. When completed it will contain a hotel occupying sixty feet of the end fronting on Michigan avenue, and about thirty feet in width along both sides, to within fifty feet of the Wabash avenue end, which will be devoted to business offices, the interior is designed for a theatre, but will temporarily constitute the convention hall. For the latter purpose the platform for the presiding officer, reporters, etc., is being erected in the space to be afterward occupied by the stage, with a gallery for spectators in the rear, and two on the sides, the latter taking up the space to be subsequently occupied by the private boxes of the theatre, forty-eight in number. In the front end, facing the stage, are the first balcony and the first and second galleries (so designated by the boss carpenter), which will be in readiness for the use of spectators at the Convention, and the whole seating capacity of the hall as fitted up for the convention, including the floor, is stated at 7,000. The hall is lighted through glass in the roof by day and electric lights by night. I went all through it to-day, from floor to roof, under escort of the courteous gentleman in charge of the carpenter work, Mr. Henry French, formerly of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. French was only too glad, he said, to oblige any one representing the Boston Journal, of which he informed me he was for many years a regular reader when in the East, and even now he cannot get along without going to the Palmer House to peruse it almost every day. He is in the employ of the Frost Manufacturing Company, which has the contract for the wood work. The outer walls of the building, now about half way up, are of a grayish granite, obtained from Maine and Minnesota, principally the latter. The entrance to the convention hall is on Congress street, through three large arched passages, supported by massive circular columns of polished granite. The interior walls are of a light-colored brick, twelve or fifteen inches thick; the beams are of structural iron, and the floors and the greater portion of the roof are made of tiles, the object being to render the structure strong, durable and fire-proof. It is to be ten stories high, with a tower five stories higher. It is quite the rule in Chicago to build in the air in the business quarter, owing principally to the high price of land, and the general use of elevators, operated with a rapidity which makes the occupant feel as if he were going up among the tree tops in a swing, or descending in one at a furious rate to mother earth. But this deems to be in part an outgrowth of the bounding energy of the Chicagoese. But to come back to the Auditorium Building if you don't insist that I have told you enough about it already. The dimensions of the building are 363 feet on Congress street and 185 on the avenues. The space it occupies resembles very much the lower side of Temple place, with Tremont street for Michigan avenue, the side of Boston Common would then take the place of the long and narrow strip of greensward on the opposite line of the avenue, and known as the Lake Park, with Lake Michigan stretching away like a sea just beyond, skirted here by the Illinois Central Railroad. The Exposition Building, in which the two last Republican national conventions were held is also situated on Michigan avenue, on the opposite side and about 500 yards to the north of the Auditorium; it will be remembered by the delegates of '80 and '81 for the intolerable noise which pierced its iron walls from the adjacent railroad; but, happily, this discomfort will not be felt within the thicker and more distant walls which are to enclose the scene of the coming convention, which can count on conducting its business undisturbed by the puffing and tooting of locomotives.

NEWS FROM EASTERN MAINE.

West Old Town Letter.

[Regular Correspondence Whig and Courier.]

On Tuesday night, Charles Storman had several sheep killed by bears. Five were found dead in the pasture and one had been carried off. Frank Hussey, an old bear hunter, was called on to catch the marauders. Several traps were set, and on Friday night he succeeded in catching a good sized old bear. It was an object of interest to many observers on Saturday. Mr. Hussey carried him to the Treasurer of Hudson to get his bounty. It is presumed there are several other bears in the vicinity, as tracks of different sizes have been seen.

A Sunday School has been started at Alton Tannery.

Al Lyshon is doing quite a business sawing shingles at the Tannery. A large number of logs are in the stream, probably enough for several million shingles.

James Shockley and D. Shirland expect to have a crew peeling bark on the Webber tract as soon as the season opens.

Rev. Mr. Chase, pastor of the M. E. church in Old Town, will preach at West Old Town next Sabbath at 2.30 P. M.

I understand that Gordon Percival, an old resident of Hudson, formerly of Bangor, and now of Washington Territory, is expected soon to make a visit to his old home. Mr. Percival is eighty-two years of age.

Milo Letter.

[Regular Correspondence of Whig and Courier.]

The Boston Comedy Company played here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings to full houses. For all it was so rainy and very bad under foot, people turned out well to see the play each night.

The Teachers' Institute was held in this place, May 11 and 12. Quite a large turnout for the muddy time; but as over they had a fine time and it was very interesting.

Mrs. Will Owen, of Brownville, who has been stopping in this place through the winter, was taken to Augusta Insane Hospital on Monday.

Master Leon Leonard broke both bones of his leg below the knee, Saturday evening, while playing on Wm. Gifford's logs. A number of small boys undertook to break a landing and roll the logs into the stream, and as he was standing by one log another one rolled down a steep bank and pinned him between the two, breaking his leg badly below the knee in two places.

Mrs. C. H. Perrigo had a very sick spell Sunday morning, but at this writing is some better.

Walter Snow, who had the handsome colt for sale, lost him Friday night. He was well worth two hundred dollars, and makes three that Mr. Snow has lost within a short time.

The friends of [illegible] John could are glad to see him this year with a [illegible] on, and it looks well.

H. F. Doggett has made some repairs on his grist mill, which much improves the looks.

The Milo Cornet Band will have an outing every night in the week until the 30th of May, so says the leader.

Hampden Letter.

[Regular Correspondence of Whig and Courier.]

Mrs. E. A. Harding has returned from Washington where she has spent the winter.

Prof. Silas Alden, of the Boston School of Oratory, is home for the summer vacation. Prof. Alden has many friends here in his native place that are always glad to see him. He has some private pupils here and in Bangor to whom he gives instruction in the various branches taught at the school of which he is one of the faculty. Next Tuesday evening he gives readings at the Town Hall.

Mr. H. W. Conley, of the Theological Seminary, was in town over Sunday, and led the praise service at the Congregational church on Sunday evening.

Mr. John Dudley and wife have returned from a week's visit at their daughter's, Mrs. P. McConville, of Bangor.

A Memorial service is to be held in Town Hall, next Sunday, at which Rev. D. H. Sawyer will deliver a sermon before the F. G. Flagg Post, No. 122.

It is expected that Hon. S. W. Matthews will deliver a Memorial address at West Hampden on Memorial Day. Rev. E. K. Drew, of Hodgdon, Maine, delivers the address here.

Dr. L. E. Norris has returned from his trip to N. H. He left his daughter, Miss Bessie, improved in health.

Mrs. George Mayo died Tuesday morning, after a long illness. She leaves a husband, two little boys and an aged mother, who have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Emerson Bros. have been painting their residence.

Mr. B. F. Lennan has been making repairs on his residence and store.

Mrs. J. C. Eveleth and Mrs. Cyrus Humphrey are on the sick list.

Misses Flora and Clara Mayhew have returned from Upton, Mass., where they have been during the winter.

The yearly catalogue of the academy is being prepared and preparations made for the commencement exercises.

Hampden Grange had a social Monday evening to which their families were invited.

The Penobscot Co. Conference of Congregationalist churches meets with the Hampden church June 12th and 13th.

The pastor of the Congregationalist church closed last Sunday evening a series of addresses on the ten commandments. Next Sunday evening he will speak on "Creeds."

The friends of the academy will be glad to learn that Prof. and Mrs. Spratt and Prof. Allen have been engaged for another year. This will insure a successful year.

The commencement exercises and a Grand Concert are to occur at Town Hall June 1st and 2nd. Special talent has been engaged for the concert, the Apollo Quartette of Bangor, Mrs. Winslow Potter, Prof. Silas A. Alden and others.

WILL YOU LISTEN TO SOUND ADVICE?

Owing to the inclination of many people to be humbugged in the purchase of articles of necessity in the household, we feel it our duty to sound a note of warning to those who seek remedies for the relief of the aches and pains incident to this season of the year. The great and growing popularity of BENSON'S PLASTER has tempted unscrupulous manufacturers to offer many worthless substitutions and imitations of that valuable remedy, hence we would advise those who wish to secure prompt relief from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Chest Pains, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago and Backache, to carefully avoid worthless plasters by always asking for BENSON'S and let no persuasion by the dealer induce you to accept any other plaster.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Athlophoros Plasters has ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87.
The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. (Our druggist said "plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. Mrs. WILLIS MARSH.

Tar, Bloodroot, and Wild Cherry
COUGH CURE.

The most popular Cough Remedies of the day are those which contain the drugs mentioned above, and this is so in spite of the unpleasant taste and appearance which the Tar gives to them. Knowing this, we have endeavored to produce something in the form of a Syrup that should hold in solution the active ingredients of these valuable curatives, and at the same time present an attractive appearance and agreeable taste. How perfectly we have succeeded, the medicine itself will attest. We defy the efforts of every manufacturer in the wide world to produce results superior to what we show you in this elegant compound of TAR, BLOODROOT AND WILD CHERRY, and

We Challenge Every Cough Cure in the Market

To Effect Greater Cures than this Has Done.

Especially in Chronic Bronchitis and Irritated Throats, caused by poisonous secretions from Catarrhal troubles. We realize the fact that no one remedy will meet the demands of all cases. Coughs arise from many causes, and require a proper diagnosis and the application of appropriate remedies that the best results may follow treatment, but there are very many people who suffer from Coughs that are not to be mistaken as to their origin, and may be safely treated by the sufferers themselves with remedies that are KNOWN, and KNOWN to be HARMLESS, as well as POTENT. There is no secret about this remedy, except the process of making. It contains just what we tell you, and nothing more. It is perfectly healthy to use, [or in other words, it produces no results that are not good. All Cough remedies containing opiates derange the stomach. This Cough Syrup contains nothing but drugs which have a tendency to aid digestion.

Use it and be cured. Take it and you will be thankful for the pleasant results.

DYSPEPSIA

Causes its victims to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, very irritable, languid, and drowsy. It is a disease which does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy to throw off the causes and tone up the digestive organs till they perform their duties willingly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven just the required remedy in hundreds of cases.

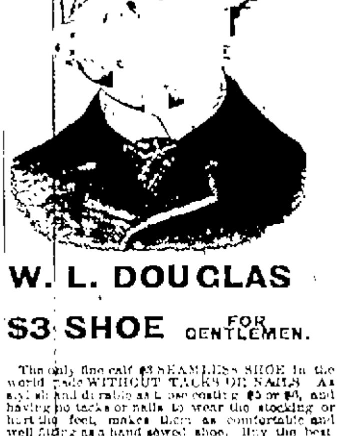

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia, from which I have suffered two years. I tried many other medicines, but none proved so satisfactory as Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS COOK, Brush Electric Light Co., New York City.

Sick Headache

"For the past two years I have been afflicted with severe headaches and dyspepsia. I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have found great relief. I cheerfully recommend it to all." MRS. E. F. ANNABLE, New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Mary C. Smith, Cambridgeport, Mass., was a sufferer from dyspepsia and sick headache. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it the best remedy she ever used.

A REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

—WILL BE HELD IN—

CITY HALL, PORTLAND,

Tuesday, June 12, 1888,

AT 11 O'CLOCK A. M.

For the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, to be supported at the September election, and transacting any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for each seventy-five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1886, an additional delegate, and for a fraction of forty votes in excess of seventy-five votes, a further additional delegate. Vacancies in the delegation of any city, town or plantation, can only be filled by residents of the county in which the vacancy exists.

The State Committee will be in session in the reception room of the Hall at nine o'clock on the morning of the Convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

The electors of Maine, without regard to past political differences, who believe in protecting the industries of this State and its agricultural products, who believe in protecting the laborer and the wage earner in every right; who believe "in a policy which inspires labor with hope and crowns it with dignity, which gives safety to capital and protects its increase, which secures liberal power to every citizen; comfort and culture to every home," giving free popular education to the people, in favor of free suffrage and honest counting of ballots, who approve the prohibition of the liquor traffic and the promotion of the cause of temperance, in an economical and efficient administration of public affairs faithfully administered civil service, and who uphold all judicious measures for the encouragement of American shipbuilding, are cordially invited to unite with the Republicans in the selection of delegates to this Convention.

Per Order Republican State Committee.
J. H. MANLEY, Chairman.
WILLIS H. WING, Secretary.
Augusta, April 30, 1888.

Arrangement of Trains.

The Republican State Committee have made the following railroad arrangements for the Republican State Convention:

MAINE CENTRAL RAILROAD. Tickets for any train Monday and Tuesday, June 11th and 12th, from Aroostook County and Eastern Maine, good to return on any train Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 12th, 13th and 14th, can be had at one fare the round trip. At all other points on the Maine Central tickets will only be sold good for any train going to Portland on the 11th and 12th, and for a return Tuesday and Wednesday, the 12th and 13th. Special trains will be run from Bangor, Skowhegan and Farmington, to Portland, on the morning of the Convention, returning after the adjournment. The train from Bangor and Skowhegan to Portland, will run via Lewiston. Delegates on the line of the Kennebec can take the early morning trains on the day of the Convention.

BANGOR & PISCATAQUIS RAILROAD. One fare for round trip. Tickets for all trains Monday and Tuesday, June 11th and 12th, return Tuesday and Wednesday, June 12th and 13th.

PORTLAND, MT. DESERT & MACHIAS STEAMBOAT CO. One fare for round trip to Mt. Desert Ferry and return, or to Portland and return as may be desired.

INTERNATIONAL STEAMSHIP CO. One fare for round trip.

Seats in City Hall will be reserved for Delegates who will be admitted by tickets so classified as to seat town and county delegations together. Delegates will obtain their tickets of the member of the State Committee from their respective counties upon presentation of credentials on morning of Convention to the State Committee, which will be in session to receive the same in the anteroom of City Hall.

A New Attack.

The Portland Press copies and approves a paragraph from the Biddeford Journal to the effect that Mr. Burleigh is practically State Printer and if elected Governor would have to audit his own accounts. This is even more ridiculous than the attempt to make it appear that there was danger in promoting the State Treasurer to the Governorship, a charge by the way that has fallen very flat. This last story grows out of the fact that Mr. Burleigh's son is one of the owners of the Kennebec Journal, which has the contract to do the State printing. Mr. Burleigh is in no manner connected with the paper as is shown by the records. It is a new theory in business that a gentleman is to be regarded as the responsible head of the business of his son, especially when his individual name is not identified with the enterprise in any manner. Such absurd warfare as this simply shows that the opponents of Mr. Burleigh realize the strength of his candidacy and are ready to resort to any and all methods to try and prevent his nomination. They find it is impossible to raise any tangible objection to his nomination, hence adopt this petty form of attack in the hope of misleading the people. The settlement of the accounts for the State printing is a very simple matter. Under an arrangement by Gov. Bodwell and Council Stephen Berry, Esq., of Portland, audits all of the accounts of the State printer and they are then passed upon by the Committee of the Council on Accounts, so that all of the interests of the State are amply protected. The treatment accorded Mr. Burleigh by the papers supporting Mr. Cleaves is in marked contrast with the uniform courtesy with which the candidacy of the latter gentlemen is treated by this and other papers which favor Mr. Burleigh's nomination. It is the field against Burleigh and the strongest supporters of Mr. Cleaves do not deny that Mr. Burleigh leads in the race, but base all their hopes upon forming a combination of the friends of the other candidates to defeat him. This they will not be able to accomplish as every sign points to the nomination of Mr. Burleigh upon the first ballot. Up to Wednesday morning 1,000 delegates had been elected divided, so we are informed, about as follows: Burleigh, 553; Cleaves, 329; Marble, 118; Burleigh over all, 106. Mr. Burleigh has lost in the Third and Fourth Districts 110 and has gained in the First and Second Districts 106, a net loss of two thus far. As the two former districts have a majority of 125 in the convention these figures tell a very pleasing story to the supporters of Mr. Burleigh and evidently have a correspondingly depressing effect upon the supporters of his competitors in the race.

Farmers and the Mills Bills.

At the Augusta Convention Tuesday the Democrats heartily approved "the efforts of the Democrats in Congress to pass a bill, which will, in the language of President Cleveland, 'relieve the people from unnecessary taxation.'" The bill referred to is the dark lantern measure formulated by Mr. Mills and his fellow free traders on the Ways and Means Committee. The New England Homestead has been obtaining the views of the farmers of the New England States on this bill and of the nearly three thousand replies to the inquiries sent out 90½ per cent. favored protection. The Maine farmers opposed the bill in the ratio of 4 to 1. In all human probability a general farmers' tariff vote throughout the country would produce similar results. In spite of this overwhelming sentiment against the destructive measure now before Congress the Democrats place Mr. Putnam on a platform "heartily" approving the bill and ask the Maine farmers to indorse the free trade Administration by voting for him. They will decline the invitation with great unanimity.

Balm for His Wounds.

After kicking Simon S. Brown off the State Committee the Democrats of the Third Congressional District have tendered him the empty honor of a nomination as their candidate for Congress. As if the nomination was not a sufficient sarcasm of itself this olive branch was placed in the hands of Brown's successful competitor on the State Committee, who presented the name of the side-tracked statesman to the convention. Thus as compensation for the unkind treatment of the day before, Brown is to have the thrilling satisfaction of leading the forlorn hope in Congressman Milliken's district. Brown and Bunker are now expected to look pleasant no matter how they feel.

Foolishness Running Riot.

The Kennebec Journal copies in full the able defence of the Burleigh men in Bangor, volunteered by the Portland Express. So does THE BANGOR WHIG.—Portland Advertiser.

Just now the Express is in great disfavor with the Press and Advertiser because it will not join with them in their malignant attack upon Republicans who do not support their candidate. They even charge it with treachery towards Mr. Cleaves because it will not stoop to the mean tactics resorted to by the Press, tactics foreign to the common practice of Republican papers in a gubernatorial canvass, and the disgust of the Republicans generally at the manifestly unfair policy of that paper is well illustrated in the town of Brunswick where the Republican voters who might naturally be expected to favor the Portland candidate have elected a solid Burleigh delegation to attend the State Convention. Not satisfied with assailing those that favor another candidate the Press is now pitching into the supporters of Mr. Cleaves who do not blindly follow its unwise lead, and the latest foolishness on its part is not calculated to carry joy into the ranks of the Cleaves men. The Press has developed a singular disposition to make war upon its party friends in this canvass, its course being injudicious and entirely unwarranted.

Counting 489 Votes for Blaine.

When Mr. Blaine was nominated four years ago a large, enthusiastic and rich young men's Blaine Club was formed in Chicago. The organization has been kept alive ever since in spite of the protests of the friends of several other prominent men and to-day numbers 3,000 men. The club is making great preparations for parades and receptions during the Republican Convention, and its secretary has also been making a careful canvass by letter and telegraph of the various State delegations, and claims that Blaine's strength on the second ballot will be as follows:

[illegible]	12	Wisconsin	22
[illegible]	8	Oregon	6
[illegible]	12	Virginia	24
[illegible]	18	West Virginia	12
[illegible]	28	Tennessee	24
[illegible]	8	Missouri	32
[illegible]shire	8	Maryland	16
[illegible]	65	Kentucky	14
[illegible]	20	Texas	16
[illegible]	10	North Carolina	16
[illegible]	6	Arkansas	14
[illegible]	18	Georgia	10
[illegible]	16	Alabama	11
[illegible]	13
[illegible]	6	Total	489

The Club men say that on the first ballot Ohio will give 46 votes for Sherman, Illinois 44 for Gresham, Indiana 30 for Harrison, and Iowa 26 for Allison, but that there will also be serious defections from these ranks on the second ballot. They claim that the members of the Illinois delegation have already pledged themselves for Blaine after the first ballot.

A Bad Give Away.

Representative McKinley's complete refutation of Chairman Mills' statement that a woolen suit of clothes could not be bought in this country for ten dollars, he having a suit of just that character from the establishment of his free trade colleague, Representative Leopold Morse, for exhibition in the House, is giving our free trade friends no end of trouble. They twist and squirm, but cannot get away from the fact that their leader has made another blunder equal to his seamless hose speech. Mr. McKinley in the course of his remarks said:

"The chairman of the Ways and Means Committee talked about the laboring man who worked ten days for a dollar a day, and then went to buy a suit of clothes for $10. It was the old story. He finds that he could have bought it for $10, but that the robber manufacturers have been down to Congress and had 100 per cent. put upon the suit, and he has got to go back for ten days more of toil and the use of his muscle to earn the extra $10 with which to buy the suit of clothes. A gentleman who heard that speech sends me a suit of clothes. Here it is, robber taxes and all, and the retail cost is just $10. So that the poor fellow does not have to go back for ten days more toil after all. In order to be sure of the goods (knowing the honesty and honor of the gentleman from Massachusetts) the gentleman went to his store and bought the suit. I hold in my hand the bill: J. B. Williams bought of Leopold Morse & Co., one suit all-wool clothes, $10. And I never knew before of a gentleman engaged in that business selling without a profit. This is the very $10 suit of all wool described by the gentleman from Texas, which can be bought in Boston, Chicago, New York and other cities for $10 at retail—40 per cent. cheaper than it could have been bought in 1860 under a low tariff and low wages." Mr. McKinley then gave figures showing that blankets which in 1860 cost $10 and $13 apiece, to-day could be bought for $5.83 and $6.50. On the other hand, the spinner, weaver, unskilled finisher and skilled finisher who in 1860 were paid respectively $6, $4, $4.50 and $6 a week, to-day received respectively $16, $10, $9 and $10 per week.

Still Alive.

[New York Tribune.]

Mr. Blaine's political enemies have kindly permitted his health to improve so far that the correspondent of the World pronounces the reports of his sickness "stupid concoctions of malice, disproved to the most prejudiced by a mere glance at Mr. Blaine." What wonderful vitality the man must have if, after he has been killed so many times during the past year, a Democratic correspondent says, "In talking with Mr. Blaine one forgets all the rumors about his ill health," and if he is able to face a ride of thirty miles a day for several weeks in Scotland on the outside of a coach. With profound gratitude, Americans observe that the imaginative yarns of Mugwumps and Democrats do not damage his physical health, any more than the falsehoods from the same source injured his political health four years ago. He is considerably more alive than most other Americans, at all events.

Being alive and in his right mind, he politely but firmly declines to send another message to the Republican party, when invited to do so by a Democratic editor. The reason is not hard to find. He is probably aware that he has said all that he had any right to say respecting his unwillingness to be a candidate. To repeat what he has said would be stale, flat and unprofitable, and Mr. Blaine is not weak in that direction. To go further, and say that he would not accept a nomination if the Republican party should declare it his duty to accept, he has no right. "The World" perceives that the fact that he does not say this one thing is of importance, especially to Democrats. But the same circumstance has appeared weighty to many other minds, and it is generally understood, since Mr. Blaine's reply to President Cleveland's message, that he does not need the services of an interviewer in order to be heard when he has occasion to say anything.

Let us be thankful that he is still alive, and that his friends the enemy are as usual doing their best to make him stronger in the regard of genuine Americans. "The most popular citizen of the United States," Mr. Curtis now pronounces him, though persuaded that he is not to be elected. The prophetic powers of Mr. Curtis have sometimes erred, but his remarkable faculty of seeing the exact truth does not seem to have entirely deserted him, since he said at the convention four years ago: "We are confronted with the Democratic party, very hungry, and, you may well believe, very thirsty; . . . . a party which fell from power as a conspiracy against human rights, and now attempts to sneak back to power as a conspiracy for plunder and spoils."

The Fishery Treaty.

[Special Despatch to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON, May 22. The Senate almost decided to discuss the fishery treaty in open session. It had not been expected that the motion to open the doors would have been defeated by so narrow a majority as one vote, but it was so defeated, the Senate deciding by a vote of 28 to 27 not to open the doors. The division was upon strict party lines, except that Senator Hale, of Maine, it is stated in the evening papers, voted with the Democrats against the Riddleberger resolution. Mr. Hale's reasons are not known, but in this instance, if reports as to his vote are true, he has placed himself in direct opposition to his Republican associates. Some Republican Senator, whether it is Mr. Hale or not, has evidently assumed the responsibility for the fact that this treaty is not to be considered in open session.

The Representatives of New England and those immediately connected with the fishery question were very anxious that the treaty should be discussed with open doors. That has been the expressed desire of the Fishery Association, and a public discussion has been recommended by most of the leading papers of New England which have been received here. It is not known whether any Republican Senator will vote in favor of the treaty; it had been supposed that none would. Some have been disposed to favor a vote to postpone until next winter, but the understanding has been that the Republicans in caucus were opposed to that, and decided to sustain the unanimous report of the Republicans in the Committee on Foreign Relations in their resolution to reject the treaty. It is possible that the debate upon the subject will continue through the week.

Public Notice.

A hearing will be granted all persons interested in an application of Morse & Co., for license to erect a stationary Steam Engine on the Godfrey wharf near Morse & Co's Saw Mills, at the Aldermen's Room, on Friday, the 25th day of May, 1888, at 4 o'clock P. M.

By order of the Municipal Officers.
VICTOR BRETT, City Clerk.
Bangor, May 11th, 1888. sn 2w

Give These Matters a Thought.

"No matter what your ability to provide for your family and make money, is it not common prudence to supplement the value of your estate with such collateral security as Life Insurance?" Property sometimes depreciates in value, and the proceeds of a policy make good the loss to your estate.

The most careful judgment as to investment, is often found to result disastrously, in which case the policy comes to the rescue."

KIDD VS. KID BOOTS.

The first named, Ladies, are the kind made from sheep skin,—bless your innocent hearts, yes lots of 'em are made from it—the buying of which subjects you to a species of robbery, mildly suggestive to us of bold Robert Kidd's business methods. The second named are the kind we deal in, made from the tough tegument of Kids, captured in their native jungle at Harlem, New York, and we open to-day the best line of Button Boots of the kind named, ever shown in Bangor. News About the Capital.

General Sheridan Not Well.

WASHINGTON, May 23. It is stated at army headquarters that reports regarding the serious illness of Gen Sheridan are very much exaggerated One of the General's said this morning that it was true that the General was ill, that is to say, he added, he is a little out of sorts. His condition, he thought, was the result of travelling from four to five nights in a sleeping car, which had not agreed with him He has not been confined to his bed The officer from whom the above information was obtained called at the house this morning. The family assured him that the General had passed a good night and gave indications of an improved condition

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS

The Mills Bill Endorsed

HARRISBURG Pa May 23 The Democratic State Convention to-day chose Senator Wallace as permanent Chairman He vigorously endorsed the Administration, and was often cheered There was a storm of enthusiasm when he mentioned Cleveland, Hancock and McClellan When the platform committee reported Congressman Sowden opposed the provision endorsing the Mills bill and urging the Democratic Congressmen from Pennsylvania to support it He was overwhelmingly out voted at every instance A substitute by Mr Dallas Saunders of Philadelphia, [illegible] The only votes against the platform were Messrs Sowden and Saunders

The platform favors revision of the tariff, the passage of the Mills bill urging Democratic Representatives in Congress from this State to give it an earnest and undivided support It says the public lands must be reserved for actual settlement by American citizens The ability and courage of the Administration in restoring to public domain many millions of acres forfeited under Congressional grants merit the approval and gratitude of the people The surplus should be applied to a reduction of the debt Express authority should be given the President by Congress to purchase bonds in advance of maturity until the surplus is exhausted The country is to be congratulated upon the maintenance of the dignity of the Government abroad and peace and tranquility at home, under the wise and patriotic administration of President Cleveland Monopolistic legislation is condemned and necessary remedies promised The delegation to St. Louis is instructed to vote as a unit for Mr Cleveland

A just and proper pension act, which shall do ample justice to all deserving volunteer soldiers and sailors now living, and the widows and orphans of such as died from causes traceable to the service is favored

It condemns the tendency toward centralization of land titles in the hands of speculative capitalists, due to the systems of Federal and State taxation and sends greeting to the patriotic supporters of Parnell, Gladstone and Davitt.

It opposed the landing of foreign paupers and criminals and declares that the importation of foreign labor should be effectually prohibited R M Speer, of Huntingdon and A. F. Keating, of Pittsburg were elected electors at large Ex-Attorney General Cassidy, William [illegible] Scott, William Metchler and Charles E Boyle, delegates at large, all by acclamation

Mississippi Democrats

JACKSON, Miss., May 23 The Democratic State Convention to-day endorsed Cleveland and the Mills bill, chose Cleveland delegates and snubbed the memorial from the W. C. T. U. asking for an endorsement of prohibition

Texas Democrats

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 23 The Democratic State Convention was in session till midnight last night The platform deprecates any attempt to reopen the prohibition question, accepting last August's election as final Cleveland delegates were elected

Illinois Democrats

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 23 The Democratic State Convention chose delegates-at-large and adopted a platform endorsing Cleveland and tariff reform; denouncing the restriction of immigration, favoring Congressional inquiry into the causes of industrial depression, and thanks President Cleveland for the nomination of Mr. Fuller as Chief Justice

It nominated ex-Governor John G Palmer for Governor, Andrew J. Bell for Lieut.-Governor; Andrew Welch, for Auditor; Charles H. Walker for Treasurer; Jacob R. Creighton for Attorney-General; and Douglas Ricks for Secretary of State

THE METHODISTS.

Continuation of the General Conference.

The Election of the New Bishops.

NEW YORK, May 23 The Methodist Conference last night elected two of the five bishops to be chosen. They are Rev. John Hoyt Vincent, D D. LL.D., of Rock River, Ill., and Rev. J. Fitzgerald, D. D., of Newark, N. J. Four hundred and fifty-nine votes were cast, 306 necessary for choice Dr. Vincent received 311 votes, Dr Fitzgerald 310

Rev. J. W. Joyce, of Ohio, was elected third bishop at the Methodist Conference this morning. Dr Joyce is pastor of St Paul's church, Cincinnati 300 votes were necessary to choice, but Dr. D A Goodsell fell 14 short of the number, getting but 286 votes On the same ballot Dr John P Newman received 237, Charles H Payne 107, and Earl Cranston 119 The next ballot was ordered and the vote was cast in less than half an hour While the tellers were out counting the vote the Committee on Revisals reported several proposed changes in the discipline

One of these changes relative to relations of church choirs to the government of the church, occasioned considerable debate The present tendency to introduce operatic and other "high falutin music" in church services was deprecated and on motion of Col Ray the item relating to church music was amended so as to make music committees amenable to the general conference

The eighth ballot resulted in no election, but Earl Cranston gained 23, Dr Newman gained 0 and Dr Goodsell gained 4 while Dr Payne lost 30

Something of a sensation was created when the tellers returned with the result of the seventh ballot They announced 111 votes cast Necessary to a choice 294

Dr Newman and Goodsell received [illegible] each, C H Payne 135 and Earl Cranston, 150 As none received the number required there was no election The sensation referred to was occasioned by one of the tellers announcing evidences of repeating Two votes were found on the seventh ballot that were thrown out One consisted of a slip of paper, nearly torn through the centre into two strips, the names of two candidates were written on each slip in the same hand writing The other seemingly fraudulent ballots consisted of two pieces of paper with the corners turned so that the two could be cast at once and then become separated in the hat The two pieces of paper were identical in size, had the same corner turned down and contained the same candidates names and were in the same handwriting

The votes cast in the ninth ballot numbered 439, making 293 necessary to a choice [illegible] the result was the same almost as the three previous ballots Rev Dr Newman of Washington, is gradually creeping up having received in this last ballot 272 votes while Mr Goodsell received 267 Balloting began for the tenth time After the tellers had collected the ballots, the conference adjourned The result of the ballot will be made known to-morrow morning

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

General Assembly at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA May 23 At the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning it was voted that in view of the present unsettled opinion relating to the revised version it was inexpedient to authorize its use in the public worship of the sanctuary Corresponding delegates from sister religious bodies were received Rev Thos Crawford delegate from the Reformed church in the United States delivered an eloquent address of salutation from that body, The assembly broke into a double round of applause when he expressed the sentiment that the Reformed and Presbyterian churches might some time be one, in fact, as they were now one in Christian spirit and fellowship The applause was renewed when the moderator Rev C. T. Thompson, D D of Kansas City said the General Assembly and Presbyterian church reciprocated that sentiment Rev William M Baum, D D, delegate from the Lutheran church also delivered a fraternal address Dr Thompson's reply was in a happy vein Rev George W Huntington, the Reformed Episcopal delegate, Rev William M. Barr, of the Lutheran church, and Dr Richard S Stover, of the Congregational, also spoke eloquently

An Interesting Reception

The most interesting episode of the assembly occurred this afternoon, when a reception was tendered jointly to the Commissioners of the two General Assemblies by Mr and Mrs Wister Morris held at their residence at Overbrook President and Mrs Cleveland were the guests of honor Every member of the assembly was present was present The members of the Southern Assembly, some 200 in number, arrived about an hour later and were met by a committee and driven to the Morris House When nearing the place they were met by the moderator and other officers of the Northern Assembly

When Dr Thompson and Dr J I Bullock the venerable moderator of the Southern Assembly, greeted each other, there was a chorus of cheers, which was renewed when the visitors entered the grounds where President and Mrs Cleveland, the host and hostess, and the commissioners of the Northern Assembly were awaiting them The latter stood in a double row, with uncovered heads, as the Southern member passed up to the front of the portico, where the exercises were held As President and Mrs Cleveland emerged from the house to the portico there was a burst of cheering from the big assemblage on the lawn The people stood with bare heads as Mr Morris introduced President and Mrs Cleveland

The President replied at some length, speaking of his early training in the Presbyterian church, and urging a union of the two branches the "North" and the "South" Moderator Bullock then offered prayer, the doxology was sung and Moderator Thompson pronounced the benediction Then the members of both assemblies crowded up to the porch and were separately introduced to the President and wife who greeted all with a shake of the hand A collation was served to the entire party, which numbered over 800 after which the commissioners came to Philadelphia in special trains

A reception was accorded the delegates to-night in the Academy of Fine Arts President and Mrs Cleveland appeared on the platform and were accorded an ovation. The President shook each one by the hand The President will return to Washington in the morning. Mrs Cleveland remains as the guest of the wife of Rev Charles Wood, of Germantown, and will go to New York Friday.

"There are moments when silence prolonged and unbroken
More expressive may be than all words ever spoken"

Look at that wan and wasted woman, once the picture of health, now so pallid. She cannot begin to tell her sufferings, but as from day to day she goes through the house, attending to her many cares, her attenuated form, her white face, her stooping shoulders, her pinched features, all tell that she is a silent martyr to disease Her once cheery voice is seldom heard, but her silence tells her suffering more than words could do. O! ye silent, sorrowing, suffering sisters, there is a cure for your troubles; Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a soverign remedy for the derangements and maladies peculiar to your sex As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. may23 d&w1w

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore, take it now. 11

THAT TIRED FEELING

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season. [illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy, and medicinal merit. 2

is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine

The American Baptist Missionary Union concluded its meeting at Washington on Tuesday Officers were elected with George A. Pillsbury of Minneapolis Minn., as President and Rev Dr Henry S. Burrage, of Portland Maine [illegible] Secretary Hon Moses Giddings of this city is among the managers elected

The despatch from New York published in the WHIG of yesterday announcing that the ship Snow & Burgess was missing and supposed to be lost was evidently an error, as the latter ported had arrived at San Francisco on the [illegible] It is [illegible] how the report should have been [illegible] from New York [illegible] after [illegible] had been reported

Messrs Pickard & Sturtevant of Bluehill [illegible] at Bald Mountain after [illegible] but the ice is not out of the pond yet and they can do nothing for they have got to raft their canoes across the pond Mr Spencer had two boatmen there [illegible] at Blanchard [illegible] has never been done before [illegible] and those who [illegible] [illegible] worthies [illegible] One of the boatmen was an Indian

The concert to be given this evening by the Euterpe Quartette in Andrews Hall will be a very pleasant event and an excellent programme will be rendered Besides the selections by the quartette there will be readings in the Irish dialect by Mr C. S. Young and other entertainment The concert is under the auspices of Star of the East Council, [illegible] and the proceeds will be devoted to a benevolent and worthy object A large attendance is expected

A guest from down river at the Bangor Exchange narrowly escaped being asphyxiated Tuesday night He did not turn the gas entirely out when he retired for the night, and the room became full of it during the night The odor was detected yesterday morning, and when the room was entered the man was found unconscious. He revived after a short time and recovered from its effects He will probably be more careful the next time

The election of a First Lieutenant of the Hamlin Rifles occurred last evening, at eight o'clock, at the armory Col Brett presided The vote which taken stood twenty for J. T. Mitchell and seven for J. H. Wharff, and the former was declared elected Lieut Mitchell has been First Sergeant of the company and in that official position has won the confidence of all He will undoubtedly make an excellent lieutenant After the election a short drill was indulged in by the company under the direction of Capt Chilcott.

TARPON FISHING We were shown yesterday a number of scales of a tarpon, the large fish taken along the southern shore of Florida, that was caught by a Mr Hunt of New York a short time ago, and whose weight was 1[illegible]6 pounds The scales measured from two and a half to three and a half inches across. The tarpon fishing is said to be very fine sport as all who have tried it are willing to affirm About 600 feet of line is wound upon the reel and it all often comes into use as the fish when hooked invariably "sound" or dive swiftly for the bottom, and then come up with a rush and throw themselves out of water, falling upon the line They seem to have an instinct that if they strike the line they may be able to break it and make their escape. They are a very large fish and furnish exciting sport. An item in THE WHIG concerning the sport that President Sewall, of the Maine Central, had with one in Florida, will be remembered.

MARRIAGE BELLS. Mr John F. Woodman and Miss Cora B. Field were married yesterday morning at half past six o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents on Howard street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. D. Peck, assisted by Elder J. F. Clothey, of the Center street church in a very happy manner. Mr. Woodman is one of our rising young business men who by his genial manners has made himself very popular in this city where he has many friends He was a member of the Bangor Ice Company for six years and then became a member of the firm of T. G. Stickney & Co. Mr. Woodman is one of the representatives in the City Government, being a Councilman from Ward Six. Miss Field is the daughter of Mr. A. R. Field, and is an accomplished and attractive young lady. The wedding presents were numerous and elegant, and among them was a handsome silver water set, the gift of Mr. Woodman's former classmates in the Sunday school, he being the last member to become a benedict Mr. and Mrs. Woodman left on the early morning train for a wedding tour to Boston, New York, and other places, and upon their return will reside at the Lowder. The happy couple have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends in this city and elsewhere for a happy married life.

The steamer Thetis, which came from from Sargentville Tuesday night is to be taken to Moosehead Lake, where she will run in the future. Mr. Edward Angley will hoist her from the water and place her upon the cars She will be a good addition to the fleet of steamers to run on the lake this season

The members of Daniel Chaplin Camp, Sons of Veterans, had an out-door drill last evening, in preparation for Memorial Day They paraded through a number of streets on the West Side under the command of Capt Hutchins Another drill will be held this evening The rank of the camp has been received from the Inspector General and it is 9[illegible] an excellent showing

An excellent rule of health given by a professional athlete is "Walk to your your place of business Attend to work in the usual way resisting every inclination you may have to give way to indolence Walk home Never mind the weather, a little rain will not hurt you and summer heat will not affect you when you have done it long enough to do you good This is just the time to begin the walk, there is exhilaration in the air to encourage walking and the habit will [illegible] not likely to be abandoned.

Most of the up-river water mills began operations again on Tuesday and [illegible] down and the remainder will begin to-day They have been shut down a number of days on account of the high water, which [illegible] to work. W. H. Pears & Co [illegible] on Wednesday, and [illegible] H. MOOSEHEAD LAKE The lake is now [illegible] for the season and the trout fishermen have commenced to enjoy the sport The steamer Rebecca which started at [illegible] as announced in THE WHIG yesterday found a clear passage to the head of the lake returning to West Cove yesterday and going back again The Governor Coburn came down back of Deer Island the ice still obstructing the passage between Deer and Sugar Islands, but by to-day the [illegible] will probably be free for navigation Mr. Frame's party, who went to Squaw Brook are reported to have had fine luck Sportsmen will now go to the lake in large numbers to enjoy the spring fishing, which is the best of the season.

THE SALMON FISHING Yesterday was the most exciting day ever known at the Bangor salmon pool and a large number of sportsmen were engaged in the [illegible] ing and absorbing sport The falling of the water has induced further runs of fish and the waters are fairly alive with them Owing to the telephone wire having been carried away by the freshet and [illegible] yet been replaced, we are unable to present our usual full and detailed report of fish caught, weight etc But we learn on good authority that twenty fish were struck and [illegible] killed during the day All very handsome ones The names of the successful fishermen, as far as we are able to learn them, were as follows Mr. George [illegible] two Dr [illegible] Lawrence Mass Mr. McCarthy, of the same place Mr F. W. [illegible], Mr Dodge of Lawrence, and Mr Archibald Mitchell of Norwich Conn Other reports give the whole number [illegible] as seven the number we have given above The Bangor salmon pool is getting up a big name for itself as a large number of sportsmen from abroad will visit it before the season is over.

INSPECTION OF THE BANGOR AND PISCATAQUIS RAILROAD Railroad Commissioner Wildes, Mortland and Bowers, accompanied by President Neally, Supt Brown, Directors Strickland and Marston and Mr W. M. Brown returned yesterday noon on the Flying Yankee from the trip over the Bangor and Piscataquis road for the annual spring inspection The Commissioners continued on to Pittsfield to make an inspection of the Hartland road The party went over the Katahdin Iron Works Road and then to Greenville on Tuesday and passed the night at Monson Junction They were joined at Milo Junction by Hon J. B. Mayo of Foxcroft and S. O. Brown, Esq., of Dover, who went with them on the remainder of the trip All much enjoyed the trip The road was found to be in good condition and with a number of improvements going on that will place it in fine shape and to the entire satisfaction of the Commissioners The trip was a pleasant one to all who took part The Commissioners returned to this city last evening and passed the night To-day they leave for Oakland to inspect the Somerset Railroad

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG The magnificent paintings representing the Battle of Gettysburg will be seen next Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon at Norombega Hall They are thirteen in number and give a true and vivid picture of the great battle, making a complete panorama of the three days fight which was the turning point of the War of the Rebellion Careful attention has been given to detail by the painter, Mr Frank Briscoe, and the scene is said to be a very striking reproduction of the battle Gen Mulholland who exhibits the paintings gives a sketch of the battle, and explains the scenes represented by the paintings in a very clear and impressive manner. The old soldiers will readily recognize the familiar scenes, and fight the battle over again in imagination, while those who did not go to war will be enabled to see the different movements of the contending armies and how the battle was won by the Union troops There will undoubtedly be a large attendance at each exhibition The managers of the exhibition have kindly invited the children of the Children's Home to attend the Saturday matinee, free

AMUSEMENTS.

'Uncle Tom's Cabin'

The Abbey double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, with two uniformed brass bands, white and colored, and the Mystic Quartette, will appear at the Opera House next Saturday for matinee and evening performances. The Brooklyn Eagle has the following notice of the company:

The Abbey Dramatic Troupe opened at the Criterion last evening and to a large and appreciative audience. The company is a double one—the only double company in the world. Two Topsys, two lawyers, and the most wonderful Eva ever seen on any stage. She is only four years old. She is very pretty, very talented and a delightful little vocalist. Her name is Baby Peck. The piece is nicely mounted. The river filled with ice floes is a fine bit of realism. The plantation songs are rendered admirably by full voiced colored men. The dogs performed their parts with entire success.

The Hall Concert.

Mr R. B. Hall will play one of the most difficult cornet solos written for the cornet at the concert to-morrow evening, viz.: "Grand Fantasia Alexis" by Hartman. Andrews' Orchestra will render a selection from Faust, which was highly complimented at the last Cecilia concert.

The Late Hon Hollis Bowman

The remains of the late Hon Hollis Bowman, which have lain in the receiving tomb since they were brought here from California, where he died, were interred at Mount Hope yesterday with appropriate ceremonies Some half a hundred of our leading citizens were in attendance to pay the last token of respect to our late esteemed fellow citizen and ex Mayor The services at the grave consisted of reading the Scriptures and a poem by Rev Mr Cressey, remarks and prayer by Rev. Mr Battles and benediction by Rev Mr Cressey

Mr Battles spoke feelingly and appreciatively of the deceased, referring to his tall well proportioned and erect figure, with his face beaming with intelligence and kindliness which gave him an imposing presence, with which we have been familiar for nearly two generations Though never prominent or largely influential in the mercantile life of our community he had taken an active part in the municipal affairs of our city and in some of those enterprises which have told in such a large way upon our city's business and prosperity to which his good common sense and well balanced judgment had much weight I have been told said the speaker that he [illegible] to such a degree, those qualities which when associated with others in matters of corporate or public concern he would always rise in position as is illustrated by the fact that he was a Director and then President of the [illegible] Kennebec Railroad was [illegible] then Alderman and then Mayor for several years and having previously been for several successive years City Treasurer In all his various trusts he [illegible] deep regard for the public [illegible] Mr Battles referred to the deep interest taken by the deceased in our public schools A discriminating, though not an extensive reader, his intellectual [illegible] were the predominant ones With him ideas and principles were adopted by intellect and reasoning rather than by the intentions of the moral nature or by religious sentiment He was a man of commanding integrity No one would think of approaching him to win his approval or influence for unrighteous or corrupt cause He was a man of inspiring personal presence and marvel [illegible] of character He was not emotional All the currents of his life flowed smoothly and without [illegible] Said one who knew him intimately for half a century I never knew him to give way to strong emotions but once and that was when the news of Lee's surrender was flashed over the wires then he gave audible vent to his patriotism and was exultantly and loudly enthusiastic His adult [illegible] healthy and [illegible] We are thankful that he has lived and lived in our midst nor are we tearful that he has gone [illegible] ripe old age Very few of all those who are born tread the green earth for almost ninety summers, nor have their cups so filled with the great joys of existence And as he has ceased to be among men on the earth we are thankful to believe that he has gone to live among the angels in Heaven

The Treasure of Franchard.

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

They struck the Route Ronde at that moment; and the sudden change to the rattling causeway combined, with the doctor's irritation, to keep him silent. The noddy jigged along; the trees went by, looking on silently, as if they had something on their minds. The Quadrilateral was passed; then came Franchard. They put up the horse at the little solitary inn and went forth strolling. The gorge was dyed deeply with heather, the rocks and birches standing luminous in the sun. A great humming of bees about the flowers disposed Jean Marie to sleep, and he sat down against a clump of heather, while the doctor went briskly to and fro, with quick turns, culling his simples.

The boy's head had fallen a little forward, his eyes were closed, his fingers had fallen lax about his knees, when a sudden cry called him to his feet. It was a strange sound, thin and brief; it fell dead, and silence returned as though it had never been interrupted. He had not recognized the doctor's voice, but, as there was no one else in all the valley, it was plainly the doctor who had given utterance to the sound. He looked right and left, and there was Desprez, standing in a niche between two boulders, and looking round on his adopted son with a countenance as white as paper.

"A viper!" cried Jean-Marie, running toward him. "A viper! You are bitten!"

The doctor came down heavily out of the cleft, and advanced in silence to meet the boy, whom he took roughly by the shoulder.

"I have found it," he said, with a gasp.

"A plant?" asked Jean-Marie.

Desprez had a fit of unnatural gayety, which the rocks took up and multiplied. "A plant!" he repeated scornfully. "Well—yes—a plant. And here," he added, suddenly, showing his right hand, which he had hitherto concealed behind his back—"here's one of the bulbs."

Jean-Marie saw a dirty platter, coated with earth.

"That?" said he. "It is a plate!"

"It is a coach and horses," cried the doctor. "Boy," he continued, growing warmer, "I plucked away a great pad of moss from between these boulders, and disclosed a crevice, and when I looked in, what do you suppose I saw? I saw a house in Paris with a court and garden, I saw my wife shining with diamonds, I saw myself a deputy, I saw you—well, I—I saw your future," he concluded, rather feebly. "I have just discovered America," he added.

"But what is it?" asked the boy.

"The Treasure of Franchard," cried the doctor, and throwing his brown straw hat upon the ground, he whooped like an Indian and sprang upon Jean-Marie, whom he suffocated with embraces and bedewed with tears. Then he flung himself down among the heather and once more laughed until the valley rang.

"The Treasure of Franchard," cried the doctor.

But the boy had now an interest of his own—a boy's interest. No sooner was he released from the doctor's accolade than he ran to the bowlders, sprang into the niche, and, thrusting his hand into the crevice, drew forth, one after another, incrusted with the earth of ages, the flagons, candlesticks and patens of the hermitage of Franchard. A casket came last, tightly shut and very heavy.

"Oh, what fun!" he cried.

But when he looked back at the doctor, who had followed close behind and was silently observing, the words died from his lips. Desprez was once more the color of ashes; his lip worked and trembled; a sort of bestial greed possessed him.

"This is childish," he said. "We lose precious time. Back to the inn, harness the trap and bring it to yon bank. Run for your life, and remember—not one whisper! I stay here to watch."

Jean-Marie did as he was bid, though not without surprise. The noddy was brought round to the spot indicated; and the two gradually transported the treasure from its place of concealment to the boot below the driving seat. Once it was all stowed the doctor recovered his gayety.

"I pay my grateful duties to the genius of this dell," he said. "Oh, for a live coal, a heifer and a jar of country wine! I am in the vein for sacrifice, for a superb libation. Well, and why not? We are at Franchard. English pale ale is to be had—not classical indeed, but excellent. Boy, we shall drink ale."

"But I thought it was so unwholesome," said Jean-Marie, "and very dear, besides."

"Fiddle-de-dee!" exclaimed the doctor, gayly. "To the inn."

And he stepped into the noddy, tossing his head with an elastic, youthful air. The horse was turned, and in a few seconds they drew up beside the palings of the inn garden.

"Here," said Desprez—"here, near the stable, so that we may keep an eye upon things."

They tied the horse, and entered the garden, the doctor singing, now in fantastic high notes, now producing deep reverberations from his chest. He took a seat, rapped loudly on the table, assailed the waiter with witticisms, and when the bottle of Bass was at length produced, far more charged with gas than the most delirious champagne, he filled out a long glassful of froth and pushed it over to Jean-Marie. "Drink," he said, "drink deep."

"I would rather not," faltered the boy, true to his training.

"What?" thundered Desprez.

"I am afraid of it," said Jean Marie, "my stomach"—

"Take it or leave it," interrupted Desprez fiercely, "but understand it once for all—there is nothing so contemptible as a precisian."

Here was a new lesson! The boy sat bemused, looking at the glass but not tasting it, while the doctor emptied and refilled his own, at first with clouded brow, but gradually yielding to the sun, the heady, prickling beverage and his own predisposition to be happy.

"Once in a way," he said, at last, by way of a concession to the boy's more rigorous attitude, "once in a way, and at so critical a moment, this ale is a nectar for the gods. The habit, indeed, is debasing; wine, the juice of the grape, is the true drink of the Frenchman, as I have often had occasion to point out, and I do not know that I can blame you for refusing this outlandish stimulant. You can have some wine and cakes. Is the bottle empty? Well, we will not be proud; we will have pity on your glass."

The beer being done, the doctor chafed bitterly while Jean-Marie finished his cakes. "I burn to be gone," he said, looking at his watch. "Good God, how slow you eat!" And yet to eat slowly was his own particular prescription, the main secret of longevity!

His martyrdom, however, reached an end at last; the pair resumed their places in the buggy, and Desprez, leaning luxuriously back, announced his intention of proceeding to Fontainebleau.

"To Fontainebleau?" repeated Jean-Marie.

"My words are always measured," said the doctor. "On!"

The doctor was driven through the glades of paradise; the air, the light, the shining leaves, the very movements of the vehicle, seemed to fall in tune with his golden meditations; with his head thrown back, he dreamed a series of sunny visions, ale and pleasure dancing in his veins. At last he spoke.

"I shall telegraph for Casimir," he said. "Good Casimir! a fellow of the lower order of intelligence, Jean-Marie, distinctively not creative, not poetic; and yet he will repay your study; his fortune is vast, and it is entirely due to his own exertions. He is the very fellow to help us to dispose of our trinkets, find us a suitable house in Paris, and manage the details of our installation. Admirable Casimir, one of my oldest comrades! It was on his advice, I may add, that I invested my little fortune in Turkish bonds; when we have added these spoils of the mediæval church to our stake in the Mohammedan empire, little boy, we shall positively roll among doubloons, positively roll! Beautiful forest," he cried, "farewell! Though called to other scenes I will not forget thee. Thy name is graven in my heart. Under the influence of prosperity I become dithyrambic, Jean-Marie. Such is the impulse of the natural soul; such was the constitution of primeval man. And I—well, I will not refuse the credit—I have preserved my youth like a virginity; another, who should have led the same snoozing, countrified existence for these years, another had become rusted, become stereotype; but I, I praise my happy constitution, retain the spring unbroken. Fresh opulence and a new sphere of duties find me unabated in ardor and only more mature by knowledge. For this prospective change, Jean-Marie—it may probably have shocked you. Tell me now, did it not strike you as an inconsistency? Confess—it is useless to dissemble—it pained you?"

"Yes," said the boy.

"There are moments when silence prolonged and unbroken
More expressive may be than all words ever spoken."

Look at that wan and wasted woman, once the picture of health, now so pallid. She cannot begin to tell her sufferings, but as from day to day she goes through the house, attending to her many cares, her attenuated form, her white face, her stooping shoulders, her pinched features, all tell that she is a silent martyr to disease. Her once cheery voice is seldom heard, but her silence tells her suffering more than words could do. O ye silent, sorrowing, suffering sisters, there is a cure for your troubles: Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a soverign remedy for the derangements and maladies peculiar to your sex. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. may23 d&w1w

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore, take it now. 11

THAT TIRED FEELING

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

The Healthful and Nutritious

Baking Powder,

Restores to the flour the strength-giving phosphates that are removed with the bran, and which are required by the system. No other baking powder does this. It costs less and is stronger and more wholesome than any other powder.

DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S

TRADE MARK  TRADE MARK

Pin Worm Elixir.

A GREAT DISCOVERY!

It is claimed to be the safest, most potent and most effectual remedy known for this child killing Disease. As a catharitic vermifuge it has no equal. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels of suffering humanity, are triumphantly expelled by this truly wonderful remedy. Testimony in its favor comes in from all sections where it is known. It not only effectually removes from the system these troublesome and dangerous worms, but children who have been weak and puny for years, are at once improved and restored to health by its use. Being a mild and gentle laxative, it is a corrective of the greatest value. It has also expelled several lizards. One eight inch in length, ... belongs to the lizard species and looks like a veritable young alligator. Effectually cured of worms and indigestion.

BUY IT AND TRY IT.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 35c. 50c and $1.00.

DR. JOHN F. TRUE & CO., Proprietors, AUBURN, ME.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, guardian of Allen P. Webster, of Orono, in said County, minor child of Ebenezer Webster, late of Orono, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said minor is seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz:

One fifth undivided of ... lot of land and buildings thereon standing, on the main street leading from Stillwater Village to Marsh Point, in the town of Orono, described as follows, viz:

Beginning on said Main street at the southeasterly corner of the homestead lot of the late James P. Crowell, thence easterly on said Main street one hundred and seventy two (172) feet, thence at right angles with said Main street, northerly ... said Main street, thence ... (172) feet to the ... line of said Crowell homestead lot, thence on said Crowell line ... to said Main street at the point begun at. Subject to a right of way for teams across the easterly side of said lot, and the grantee to maintain all fences enclosing said lot. Subject to the widow's right of dower therein.

That it would be for the benefit of said minor that said Real Estate should be sold and the proceeds thereof put out at interest or otherwise for his benefit.

She therefore prays that license may be granted her to sell and convey the above described Real Estate at public or private sale, according to the requirement of law.

April 21, 1888. P. S. WEBSTER.

STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT, SS.—Court of Probate, April Term, A. D. 1888.

Upon the foregoing petition, Ordered, That said petitioner give public notice to all persons interested, by causing a copy of the petition and this order thereon, to be published three weeks successively in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier a newspaper published in Bangor, in said County, that they may appear at a Court of Probate for said County, to be held at the Probate Office in said Bangor, on the last Tuesday in May next, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

HOLIDAY GIFTS!

J. F. GERRITY & CO.

PORTRAIT ARTISTS,

are giving very low prices to their patrons for the holiday season. Now is the time to give your order for a nice portrait. They can be copied from small pictures of any kind.

Something New IN DECORATIVE ART.

Having acquired the proprietorship of a new and beautiful process of decorating walls, panels, ceilings, pottery, or in fact, any surface desired, I now desire to extend the practice of the method, and to that end I am prepared to sell rights for Bangor, Brewer and Orrington. The work is extremely simple and can readily be done by any skilled grown person. This is an exception-al opportunity for bright young men desiring an employment at once light, pleasant and profitable. I will instruct any person purchasing the exclusive right for any of the towns mentioned, so that they may go to teaching and selling individual rights at once. The work is exceedingly inexpensive, and its beauty, together with its manifest superiority over anything else, recommends it at once. Those interested and the public generally, can see samples of the work at 75 Pickering Square.
